

gsLearn Learning Path/Course Listing

gsLearn is GSUSA’s new Learning Management System. GSNorCal is currently working on updating our volunteer training and migrating to gsLearn. In the near future, this new system will offer volunteer role training as well as several helpful courses to help you succeed in Girl Scouts. For now, most volunteer role training must still be taken on our Volunteer Learning Portal. However, there are currently several courses available on gsLearn for volunteers to explore. See gsLearn Troubleshooting and FAQs for more information.

Learning Path: 636 Service Unit Recruiter Learning Series

Service Unit volunteers play a key role in supporting the mission of Girl Scouting in their local community. Recruiters are able to spread the message of Girl Scouts to local schools and organizations and speak in a way that the council can't- with the voice of a member of the community. Providing support and detailed training to these volunteers will effectively prepare them to speak about the importance of Girl Scouting while providing councils with on the ground support for recruitment efforts.
