Progression Tip: Trips and outdoor experiences are based on progression and girl readiness. Follow the guidelines in this checklist and in the online training to ensure your Girl Scout travels are a success!

Planning: 2-6 months before traveling with girls. For longer and farther trips, planning can take 9-12 months.

1. Mission, purpose and program quality
   - Determine what skills, readiness, or experience girls might need to gain before the trip.
   - Discuss logistics of the trip (why, who, what, where, when, how to get there).
   - Consider options and make tentative decisions based on interest, costs, and feasibility.

2. Money, timeline, and responsibilities
   - Determine trip budget, including funding source (troop funds, family contributions, is it necessary to earn money first?).
   - Set up a planning timeline.
   - Begin fitting trip preparations into on-going troop activities. Explore related badge work.
   - Recruit necessary adult chaperones and inform families with general info about the trip (date, cost, etc).

3. Training and safety
   - Complete required online training. Minimum requirements for Leaders and/or Trip/Camp Advisors: New Leader Training; Safety-Wise, Trip & Outdoor Basics. Reference the Training Requirements on page 3.
   - Enlist appropriate First Aid/CPR trained adult.
   - Review Volunteer Essentials: Safety-Wise for adult supervision and transportation standards.
   - Identify qualified drivers and chaperones. Ensure their background check and membership are current, and they have completed the Troop Driver and/or Troop Chaperone online training.
   - Review the Safety Activity Checkpoints. Are Safety Activity Checkpoints written for the activity? Share them with vendors, parents, girls, as appropriate.
   - Develop an Emergency Management Plan and review VE: Safety-Wise: Emergencies, Accidents and Incidents to share with all.
   - Assemble first aid kit. Reference the Anatomy of First Aid Kit.

4. Clarify details
   - Refine purpose of trip, money-earning projects, trip schedule, equipment needed, meals and snacks, who will bring what, how the troop will travel, etc.

5. Girl Scout approval
   - Submit the online Trip or High-Adventure Approval Form at least two weeks before the trip or before any non-refundable plans are made, whichever is sooner.
   - Submit contracts or agreements, if needed, on your Trip and High-Adventure Approval Form.
   - Begin confirmation, payments and accumulation of the following, after approval:
     - Paperwork listed in Paperwork section
     - Reservations with venue or vendors
     - Transportation details (drivers, train passes, bus tickets, etc.)
6. Finalize details and logistics

- Finalize itinerary and budget.
- Purchase and pack meals, snacks, and equipment.
- Review safety plans and rules to be followed (team agreements, kapers, patrols).
- Orient families to the trip.

7. Paperwork

- Connect with Risk Management Dept. to ensure Trip or High-Adventure Approval Form is approved.
- Verify Girl Health History Forms and Adult Health History Forms are up-to-date (must be dated/signed within 2 months of any overnight activity).
- Verify Activity/Event Permission Forms signed.
- Verify Troop Driver forms are completed/updated.
- Assemble Trip Folders for each driver.
- Share reservation and transportation copies, receipts, maps, etc. with drivers.

- Download the Accident/Injury Report Form, Incident Report Form, Media Information Sheet, and Mutual of Omaha Claim Form.
- Download the Council Emergency Plan and Emergency Cards and share with troop adults/chaperones.

8. Confirm details

- Provide details and parent contact info to at-home emergency contact person.
- Double-check lodging and transportation arrangements; check for road closures and weather.
- Provide final reminders to girls and families.

9. Travel time! Let’s Go!

- Have fun!
- Follow established rules.
- Stay with your buddy.
- Be flexible!

10. Debrief and wrap up paperwork

- Evaluate and debrief with the girls and adults who participated (may be 2 conversations).

- Keep evaluation and debrief notes in troop records.
- Celebrate your success. Give out earned badges or patches that were part of the trip/outdoor experience.
- Gather receipts, tally expenses, and manage reimbursements.
- Log income and expenses in a detailed financial report to share with girls, parents and Troop Treasurer.
- Learn from your experience and start planning your next adventure!
Required Training

Troop Leaders and Trip and Camp Advisors should take the appropriate training for the activities they will be doing with girls. The Trip & Outdoor Basics course should be completed by everyone and is a prerequisite to our other Trip & Outdoor Advisor courses. Our menu of training options are designed with progression in mind so that you can learn the information you need for the types of trips and outdoor activities you will be doing with girls.

Please note: Each leader/advisor does not need to take all the courses. Course completions can be shared between 2 or more roles, so long as they complete the courses required for the activity. Depending on the roles in your troop, at least one adult who will be planning and attending the trip will need to complete the required training for the activities you will be doing.

For example, when you are ready for your first indoor overnight where girls will cook indoors, the Trip Advisor could complete the Trip & Outdoor Basics, Sleep in, and Cook In courses. However, when you are ready for your first outdoor sleep out with a campfire your Camp Advisor could complete the Trip & Outdoor Basics, Campfire, and Sleep Out courses. So long as both the Trip and Camp Advisors will be planning and attending the trip, one person does not have to complete all training.
